Eight Thirty's Victory In Metropolitan Stamps Him One
Of Handicap Racing's Greatest

IN WINNING the Metropolitan Handicap at Belmont Park last Saturday, Eight Thirty, Mr. George D. Widener's chestnut 5-year-old by Pilate—Dinner Time, by High Time, inscribed his name upon the small but select roster of horses that have been able to win in the great American handicaps when carrying in excess of 130 lbs.

How unusual the feat is may be gathered from scanning the table of winners of this celebrated event, which is among the oldest and most widely known of its class upon the American racing calendar.

The Metropolitan was first run in 1891, at Morris Park, then the most magnificent of our racing plants. It was conceived as the premier feature of its spring meetings, and as the forerunner of the Brooklyn and the Suburban Handicaps, shortly to follow, the Suburban at Sheepshead Bay and the Brooklyn at Gravesend, the two latter tracks being located on Long Island and today, like Morris Park, vanished from the map.

The Suburban, which is the oldest and most famous of American Handicaps, was first run in 1884. It was then an innovation and was from the start so successful that three years later, in 1887, the Brooklyn was launched in imitation of and rivalry with it.

The same success attending it, in 1891 the Metropolitan was inaugurated; making a trinity of great spring handicaps each intended to

James W. Appleton Wins Top Honors In Beagle Show

BY JANE E. DANE, M. B.

Sunday, May 12, in Ipswich, Mass. Mr. James W. Appleton, master of Waldingfield Beagles, staged a delightful puppy show.

The show took place in the Kennel yard under two old apple trees, with seats for the spectators on the slope outside. Programs—with an old Beagle print at the top—were passed out to everyone, and hounds were shown as in England by those who had walked them the previous summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Wolcott were in the ring as stewards, and showed the hounds for Mr. Manzer, the kennelman for the pack who walks a couple or more at home each season. Miss Cynthia Burrage, whose family, the Albert C. Burrages, have walked Waldingfield puppies since living in

Clark Colors Victorious At Belmont Park

Jockey Bellhouse Does Some Fine Riding To Bring Bladen
Home Ahead Of Amalfi

Steeplechasing at Belmont Park the past week saw two potential champions returning with the winner's end of the featured stakes, F. Ambrose Clark's Bladen, who had already won once before at this meeting, romped home in the Belmont Spring Maiden Steeplechase, last Thursday, May 22, to take down the winner's share of $3,050, after a bad mistake had looped both reins on the off side of his neck and Jockey F. Bellhouse guided the Sir Gallahad III gelding home by his wits. Stephen Sanford Jr.'s Stud cracked out rather a remarkable 4-year-old in Arch Rero, 140, who though given 7 pounds by Thomas Hitchcock's Satilla, 147 and Louis B. Mayer's Ossabaw, 166, held them in this order by 7 and 17 lengths, running the 2 miles within 2 3-5 seconds of the track record.

In the Maiden Stake last Thursday week, it looked like Jockey F. Maier was going to make all the pace on Groton Stable's Amalfi and win as

Lew Dunbar Best Open Jumper At Staten Island

BY PROCTOR KNOTT

Spectators could well imagine they were out west in the dust bowl last Saturday instead of at a horse show on Staten Island, so thick was the dust that swirled from the ring around horses, riders, and the ring-side, despite the relief of sprinklers. Coupled with a small enclosure and uneven ground, conditions were far from perfect. However, it was all taken in good grace, as normally this show would have been held at the very adequate grounds of the nearby armory.

Entries were only fair, though rivalry was keen. Staten Island is not an easy place to get to, being reached only by ferry for Northern point visitors, which no doubt kept this from being a larger show. The best-filled classes were the utility and hack classes, with a rather small turnout for jumpers.

In the open classes, Mrs. Elizabeth Correll's chestnut gelding, Lew Dunbar, just returned from the Washington Show, romped away with the open jumper title, winning two 1sts and a 2nd with Gordon

Woodfellow Champion In Wilmington 3-Day Hunter Show Of 1,367 Entries

Nominations Good For 'Chasing At Delaware Park

Delaware Park Steeplechasing, which again will dovetail with Belmont Park, will get under way as late as Wednesday, June 11, with the running of the $2,000 added Spring Maiden Steeplechase, even though the race meeting starts tomorrow, Memorial Day, May 30. The purpose of starting Delaware Park steeplechasing after the conclusion of the Belmont meeting is to insure plentiful fields of jumpers for both race meetings.

The full name, Delaware Steeplechase and Race Association, gives the Wilmington organization the distinction of being the only flat racing organization in the country which includes the word "steeplechase" in its corporate name. J. Simpson Dean, president, Donald P. Ross, and William du Pont, Jr. committee-members are all 'chasing enthusiasts. In addition, each is a keen foxhunter, the president of Delaware being master of the Vicmead Hunt, and Mr. du Pont being M. F. H. of the Foxcatcher hounds.

The four Delaware Park steeplechases again have received flatter-

United Hunts Holds Summer Meeting At Piping Rock

After a lapse of twenty-four years, racing will be revived at the historic Piping Rock Club in Locust Valley, Long Island, when the United Hunts Racing Association will hold its annual summer meeting there Saturday, June 14. Thus two organizations that did more than any others to keep racing alive in the turbulent days of the sport are again brought together in the racing picture.

It was the Piping Rock Racing Association and the United Hunts that carried on racing in N. Y. back in 1912 when all the major tracks were closed with the revocation of the Percy Gray Law. The Piping Rocks Assn. carried on sport over their Club course and had as a feature the Piping Rock Cup which was first raced for in 1912. This race was abandoned after 1916 but later revived at the Rockaway Hunt Club in Cedarhurst, Long Island and the cup was won outright in 1935 by J. W. Y. Martin's Luckite. Mr. Martin returned the cup for competition in 1936 when it was run by Louis E. Stoddard Jr.'s Blackcock and it has

Acquired Winner To Retire
Dauneport Trophy

The finest all hunter show in America is undoubtedly the Wilmington Horse Show, held annually in the "Meadows on the Brandywine", home farm of Mr. and Mrs. Norman P. Rood, and daughter, Miss Deborah G. Rood. The 7th annual renewal was held last week, May 22, 23, 24, and it brought out the greatest field of conformation horses seen in action this year, or for that matter in many a year, as the Wilmington fixture was the greatest in its history with 1,367 entries going through the side hill ring and over the gorgeous sod on the outside course. Miss Patricia du Pont, of Wilmington, turned back the best of the invaders and retired the Dauneport Hunter Champion Trophy, presented by Miss Amy E. du Pont, with her recently acquired Woodfellow.

Twice before had Miss du Pont ridden the conformation champion at Wilmington, in 1938 and 1939 on her consistent and many time champion, Kingculture. When this veteran could not go this year in the Brandywine meadows, Freddy Pinch, of Montchanin, Del., was called upon for help. His answer was Woodfellow, winner of the Dauneport trophy in 1936 for the Wynfromere Farm, whom he had recently obtained from the Edward V. Quinns' Clareda Farm, in New Jersey. This beautiful son of Playfellow, out of the Wood-

Cannabis Captures Jumper Honors At Lancaster

BY DREW W. HIESTAND

The inclusion this year of more hunter and jumper classes in the Lancaster Horse Show, sponsored by the Junior League of Lancaster, Pa., and held on the Lancaster Fair Grounds, provided keen competition. Up from Baltimore, Md., came H. O. Firor's Sandrock, to be pinned champion and Capt. J. B. Stauffer's veteran campaigner, Cannabis, of Harrisburg, Pa., took the jumper honors.

Threatening skies on Friday, May 23 and high winds on Saturday, May 24, did not dampen the enthusiasm of those interested in the battle between Sandrock, ridden by Mr. Firor's grandson, Hugh Wiley and Ternanog, owned by Dick Atkinson, Media, Pa., and ridden by his son Alex. Classes ranged from 10 to 20

Hunting Notes:-

Every Foxhunter Should Plant Seed Plot To Help Hold Game Birds For Farmer

BY W. NEWBOLD ELY, M. F. H.

From time to time in the past we have emphasized how masters and every member of the field plus all those at all interested in foxhunting, should cooperate in helping the small game situation by doing a little planting. An acre or two here and there is all that is necessary, and the expense is negligible, yet in the benefit to wild life pays dividends many times over, and gives a concrete evidence to other sportsmen that foxhunters also believe in helping the other fellows' sport. The following extracts from the instructions of the Pennsylvania Game Commission will prove helpful to all those going into this worthy project.

"Plans should be made early for plots which are to be planted this year. It has been found that many landowners are willing to plant the mixture along the edges of their fields if the seed is furnished for them. The food plot will attract and hold insect and weedseed eating birds, and thus be of considerable assistance to the landowner in his battle against pests. The mixture, as made up for planting in 1941, will contain the following grains in the amounts shown for each 100 pounds.

- Broom Corn (Dwarf Jap) . . . 20 lbs.
- Sorghum (Early Amber) . . . 20 lbs.
- Sudan Grass . . . 5 lbs.
- Buckwheat (Tartary) . . . 5 lbs.
- Sunflower (Small Branching) 8 lbs.
- Hungarian Millet . . . 5 lbs.
- Japanese Millet . . . 13 lbs.
- Golden Millet . . . 10 lbs.
- Dolby Milo . . . 5 lbs.
- Waffir Corn (Greeley or Highland) . . . 6 lbs.
- Rape (Dwarf Essex) . . . 1 lb.
- Hairy Vetch . . . 2 lbs.

It should be planted in plots of about 1-4 to 1-2 acre, preferably in long narrow strips. The plots should be located either in or adjacent to good natural cover, such as brushy ditch banks, fence rows, gulleys or woodlots. For best results fertilizer should be used on each plot. In some cases lime also is needed. Consult local agricultural leaders for advice as to the particular requirements in each locality.

Not more than fifteen pounds per acre should be sown broadcast on a prepared seed bed from about May 15 to June 15. Best results have been obtained from sowing by hand, as a drill does not distribute the various ingredients equally because of the different sized seeds. It is to be hoped that many additional organizations will arrange for the planting of one or more game food plots this year in order that the supply of wildlife food may be greatly increased." It is suggested that each person write their state game commission for data as to where to get the mixtures and instructions for their locality, and then go ahead and do it.

Now that foxhunting is over for the season possibly some readers will take up the sport of cathunting by polishing off a few marauders as they catch them stealing through the countryside. Let me quote from the most excellent game study by the University of Missouri. "It should be understood at the outset that the sportsman, the wildlife manager, and the naturalist can have no quarrel with the pet cat which is well fed, which is kept in at night, and whose surplus kittens are disposed of. These are the conditions under which cats are least likely to become a menace to wildlife and most likely to justify general esteem as mousers and pets. Cats stand high in the public regard, and as long as they remain mousers and pets they should be as well protected as other valued animals. It is because of the night-hunting pet cat, and the stray that hunts all the time, that this species ranks as an important predator." The cruising radius of the marauding cat is 4 miles, which gives some idea of the surprisingly large area one cat running wild will cover. They have 2 to 4 litters a year, and 5 to 9 in each litter. Kittens are born wild as far as 8 miles from the nearest house. Massachusetts estimates that cats kill 2 million birds a year

Equine Tail Waggers Seek Contributions To Better Horses

The Tail Waggers Club, an organization of horse lovers with an eventual aim to gain effective legislation to better conditions for horses, is gaining followers in increasing momentum. First suggested by Rhoda Christmas, columnist of the Times-Herald in Washington, the idea has met with sweeping acceptance in Maryland, where a large body of horsemen recently met to consider the crusade in the Old Line State.

Mrs. Robert Watson, C. B. Porter and Miss Christmas recently met in Washington, when it was decided that an "Equine Division" of the Tail Waggers' Club should be founded, to separate the horse work from other animal work done by the Tail-Waggers' Club in the District of Columbia. It was further recommended that a Maryland Chapter of the "Equine Division" and a Virginia Chapter be formed as soon as possible.

All $1 memberships in the Tail-Waggers' Club taken out in the name of a horse are put aside in a separate fund for horse work only. The Club is to eventually use the money to work among horses and secure the necessary legislation in the District of Columbia, Maryland and Virginia, to eradicate the ills that now exist among horses in all fields. It is the final aim of the "Equine Division" of the Tail-Waggers' Club to form an organization strong enough to obtain adequate power to condemn horses, and the like, who are being kept or used under inhumane conditions.

It was further suggested that when the Virginia, Maryland and D. C. Chapters are sufficiently active that the heads of these chapters meet and draft laws to present to their respective legislatures. After such laws are in effect, it is further recommended that a capable agent of the "Equine Division", of the Tail-Waggers' Club be appointed to cover the auctions, riding academies, tracks and farm areas to check inhumane use of horses.

At the recent meeting in Maryland, men of outstanding positions in the world of the horse in this state, who went into various angles of maltreatment of horses and the insufand the New York Biological Survey gives their number as 3 1-2 million and Illinois 2 1-2 million. Cats should be licensed, agencies created for their disposal, and a law against abandoning cats or kittens.

ficient systems of offering relief were Humphrey S. Finney, editor of the Maryland Horse; Harry Parr III, breeder and owner; Matt Daiger, head of the Maryland Jockey Club; Henry L. Straus, inventor of the totalizer used at tracks, and master of Carrollton Hounds; Hugo Hoffman, owner and breeder of thoroughbreds; D. Sterritt Gittings, Maryland horseman; Courtney Jeniffer, attorney of the Humane Society and Mrs. Bolling W. Barton, gracious, hard working and able president of the Maryland Humane Society.

Miss Christmas has asked The Chronicle to represent the Tail-Waggers' Club in the Northern Virginia area, is forwarding buttons and membership credentials promptly. All memberships are taken out in the name of horses by owners. Miss Christmas has Alfred Gwinn Vanderbilt's Discovery; W. L. Brann's Chalcedon; Crispin Oglebay's Level Best; and others, and for publicity use in getting the membership campaign underway she wants top representatives of various divisions of horseflesh represented. In other words, the top timber horse of this spring who is deserving of one of the charter membership buttons, on which is inscribed, "I help my pals" would be Mrs. T. Beatty Brown's Comedienne; the championship hunter (he won this recognition in the Belmont Memorial Hunter Championship) would be Christopher M. Greer Jr's Goldun; the top show ring hunter would be Mrs. George Watts Hill's Luky, etc.

Charter members are earnestly requested to get in touch with The Chronicle as soon as possible—owners of registered heavy draft; hunters; show horses and race horses—that a flying start may be had for the actual membership drive which will take place later in June and July. Memberships are $1.

Eight Thirty Wins Metropolitan At Belmont

It's not where they are at the start or mid-way through a race, but where they are at the finish line for the pay-off. A truly top horse can be held off to then be sent up to challenge contention and win with speed in reserve. This is the manner that Whirlaway trounced his Derby and Preakness fields and this is the way that Pilate's greatest son, Eight Thirty made light of the 8 other runners in the Metropolitan Handicap, last Saturday May 24, at Belmont Park.

"A great horse", and truly he is and well deserving of one of the most famous spring fixtures at Belmont. George D. Widener's Eight Thirty, 132, gave 30 pounds to E. R. Bradley's Bold and Bad, 102, and handled him like a champion, when he ran through horses from the last turn, after having bucked a strong wind on the back-stretch. The time was 1:37 1-5, despite the wind, but 2 1-5 seconds off of Jack High's 11-year-old mark. Eight Thirty ran his winnings to $15,525 with his 2 straight wins this season.

Saturday last also saw an eastern bred win the feature of the Suffolk meeting. Mrs. E. D. Jacobs' Air Brigade, 3-year-old son of Crack Brigade, avoided the early running and was roused and driven to win the $4,970 first money of the Governor's Handicap by 3-4's of a length. This was the 8th win in 18 starts for the strenuously campaigned Air Brigade, who has raced and won from Florida, Bowie, Jamaica, Belmont to Suffolk this season.

The Quest. That was what the 1 1-2 mile race was named that Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane's Romanov won on May 22 at Belmont, to graduate as a 4-year-old from the maiden ranks. The Ksar—Duration, by Hourless son cost the owner of Brookmeade Stable's $22,000 as a yearling, and the whole country waited his proving in 1939.

And so the long 2 years quest for a maiden win has ended and Mrs. Sloane couldn't have been more pleased with a stake winner. Previously Romanov, who spotted the 3-year-old Perisphere 14 lbs., in The Quest, had once finished 3rd in the Realization last fall. The further he runs the better he likes it, and the theory that Ksars improve with maturity in this instance is substantiated.

With Mrs. Sloane's Romanov succeeding, there was further gratification at her Brookmeade establishment when Outbid successfully lived up to her name in her effort for the Haggin Stakes at Hollywood Park. For California foals, Outbid, 2-year-old daughter of Brookmeade's Psychic Bid, foaled in California, won $7,000, when the event had to be split into 2 divisions of 15 each.

The following list contains all the winners by sires from eastern states who have scored during the past 7 days, from Wednesday, May 21, through Tuesday, May 27.

New Caliente Mark In Jolly Roger By Napoleon

Fencing faultlessly and forcing the early pace to take command in the last 1 1-2 miles, Mrs. Nina Brennen's Napoleon, while setting a new track record of 4:43 2-5, won the Jolly Roger $2,000 added steeplechase handicap out at Agua Caliente Race Track, last Sunday, May 25. Ideal conditions prevailed as Jockey Trainer Gerald Smith could have sat like his mount's namesake, one arm in his coat, for Napoleon, 7-year-old son of Crucifixion romped home by fully 8 lengths at the end of the 2 1-2 miles.

Napoleon beat the outstanding 'chaser of Agua Caliente in the Jolly Roger, when he held F. H. Hammond's Favorsome, who hails from Canada, to the place. Favorsome has set up an enviable record at 2 miles over Caliente courses, and held on well in the closing stages of the Jolly Roger, keeping Robert A. Rittler's Yammer in the show, safe by 2 lengths.

attract the best horses in training of the older division.

Both the Suburban and the Brooklyn were at a mile and a quarter. As the Metropolitan was to precede them on the calendar, it was conditioned at a mile and an eighth. Today it is at just one mile, while the Brooklyn is at a mile and an eighth, the Suburban is the only one of the trio that has never varied its distance, remaining still at a mile and a quarter.

When Morris Park and Sheephead Bay passed into history, the Metropolitan and the Suburban were taken over by Belmont Park; while the exit from the stage of Gravesend sent the Brooklyn to Aqueduct.

The winning of these three events is, in effect, the "triple crown" of the all-aged division, paralleling that of the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes by a three-year-old, and thus far only one horse has been able to achieve the feat; that having been Whisk Broom II, in 1913.

Quite a considerable number of horses have been able to pull off a "double"—either the Suburban and Brooklyn, or one of those events and the Metropolitan—but only Whisk Broom has ever executed the "triple." He was greatly aided in this accomplishment by the fact that back in 1913 the New York tracks were only reopening after having been closed down for two years, owing to an anti-racing crusade, and his opposition was very weak.

There is still another great annual spring handicap run at the Metropolitan tracks, which dates back to 1890 and like the Metropolitan originated at Morris Park. This is the Toboggan, which precedes the other three in date of running. It, however, is for sprinters, being at but six furlongs.

Last season Eight Thirty used it as the vehicle of a sort of warm-up for the longer and severer tests to follow, and he has done the same thing this season—each time successfully. In 1940 he won under 127 lbs and a week ago, Saturday came back for a repeat under 129 lbs.

The question now before the house is: Can he score a similar come-back this week in the Suburban?

If he can, he will equal the great feat of Crusader, the only horse that ever succeeded in winning the Suburban twice in all its long history of nearly sixty years. He first took it in his three-year-old form, in 1926 and then again in 1927, when four. His weights being 104 and 127 lbs., respectively.

A lot of other horses have tried to win this historic handicap more than once, but all have failed.

If Eight Thirty "goes over the top" he will win for himself a place among the greatest handicap horses of history. His weight for it may stop him; for as he carried 132 to win the Metropolitan he will have to shoulder that much or more for the Suburban over its longer distance.

Virginia has license to feel proud of this grand—and very beautiful—race horse, already the winner of over $150,000, as he is by the young sire, Pilate, one of the stallions standing in the Montana Hall Stud of A. S. Hewitt, at White Post, in the Shenandoah Valley.

Miss Brent's Ramos Takes Three Blues At Mayfield Show

BY WALTER CRAIGIE

Easily the class of the show from the standpoint of conformation, Miss Eileen Brent's Ramos won three blues at the Mayfield Farm Horse Show held near Ellersson, Va., Sunday, May 25. As Ramos was entered in but three classes it was a perfect score.

The 4-year-old brown gelded son of Bad Bill—Radio Star was ridden by his owner. Ramos started the ball rolling by winning the lead-in class for three and four-year-olds, which he followed by annexing the blue in hunter hacks and hunters under saddle.

To the excellent crowd which surrounded the big ring at the Mosby farm, it was not Ramos, but 8-year-old Miss Gloria Galban from Charlottesville who stole the show. This diminutive miss rode her own pony, Trophy, to take 2nd in ponies under saddle, won the children's horsemanship class over much older riders, and then gave Grover Vandevender's Princess a top-quality ride to capture the event for pleasure horses.

Miss Bruce Bowe, well-known Richmond equestrienne, won the special class for horsemanship open to all riders winning first or second in any event. The victory gave Miss Bowe the first leg on the Mayfield Farm Challenge Trophy, which must be won three times for permanent possession.

Billy Friedhoff won the knock-down-and-out with Mr. and Mrs. K. M. Bruce's Silver King at the 5'-0" level after several jump-offs with Miss Peggy Sampson's Hi Ho Silver, piloted by Newton Mayo.

C. Archer Smith's Attagal, leading scorer at last year's show, made a top performance in green hunters under the handling of Miss Anne Cone.

Judges were Alex Calvert and Miss Jane Wilbur, both of Warrenton. The awards follow:

The Blue Ridge Hunt of Millwood, Virginia will hold its annual show on Saturday, June 7th in the old grove at Carter Hall, estate of Gerard B. Lambert. QUESTION

Ch. g., 10 years, 16:3½

By DARK DEMON, out of a mare by HARVEY F.

Winner of many Conformation Hunter classes and Working Hunter Championships, besides his well-known Jumper triumphs.

His easy way of going enabled him to win the Melbrook Bowl at Bryn Mawr in 1937, after a faultless performance. Two years later he was Champion Jumper at Bryn Mawr. He has been Champion Jumper at numerous other shows, among them Detroit in 1939, where he won the 2'-0" class for the second time in two years.

He won the Corinthian Class at Lake Forest in 1940, beating such conformation hunters as MAYRING, HOLYSTONE and FOXBORO. His superb performances in winning the Jumper Championship at Warrenton last Fall will long be remembered. He has been Reserve Jumper Champion at many shows, among them Bryn Mawr. He won the two-day class for jumpers at Piping Rock in 1937.

At the Chagrin Valley Hunt show he has twice won the Touch-and-Out and twice won the Beezebub Cup, carrying more than two hundred pounds.

Starting with 1936, QUESTION has always been in the very successful Oglebay Hunt Team, which has won at least once in almost every show at which it was exhibited. Needless to say, he was in the team which won the Hunt Teams Trophy at Lake Forest three years in succession.

QUESTION is a useful, quiet hunter to hounds, and Mr. Oglebay has hunted him for several seasons, both with Chagrin Valley (Ohio) and Camden (South Carolina) Hunts.

In competition QUESTION goes in hunter style, even in open classes. In the five seasons the Oglebay Stable has shown him he has never been "rapped" or "poled". He has no tricks in the show ring or at the gate entering the ring; is easy for a lady to ride and does well in amateur classes. For anyone who enjoys showing horses, we recommend him as a horse which will give a good account of himself in any class at any show.

QUESTION is sound and may be seen and tried at Gates Mills, Ohio.

Beagles

By EDWARD M. WARD, JR.

The Kingsland Beagles of New Canaan, Connecticut, are to have joint-masters this coming season just in case Philip Crowe, who has been at the helm for so long single-handed might have to go in active service with the cavalry. The "joint" is to be James Williamson of Greenwich who is, like Mr. John Jorrock, "desperation fond of 'untin'."

The Kingsland establishment is moving from Ponns Ridge to the Ox Ridge Hunt Kennels at Darien so as to be nearer the center of their very large country. Hounds will go out two days a week, alternating between the Greenwich and New Canaan districts.

The Buckram Beagles are also moving their kennels on June first from Brookville, where they have been for some time, to the Charles McVeigh place near East Norwich. This makes their fourth move since they were established ten years ago, from a hen house to another hen house, then into a two-family house. Then to another two-family house (it is better to keep the dogs and bitches apart, we think, and it is better for appearance sake), and now they go back to a large and palatial hen house again. Something seems to draw beagles to chickens, we don't know what.

Last night we went to see a very good movie, "The Great Lie" with Bette Davis and about four couples of beagles in the cast. The leading beagle lady seemed to spend most of her time in the lap of someone seated on a sofa, but it was very nice. It is good to know that Hollywood recognizes the fact that there is such a thing as a beagle, or something.

This is the time of year to buy hounds. If a new pack is to be established or an old one augmented, it is a good plan to write to those masters who have the size hounds you are looking for and let them know what your needs are.

There are two kinds of hounds worth buying. One is the well-bred unentered hound about whose hunting ability nothing is known but because of the bloodlines is worth a gamble. The other is the old hound that is being drafted solely for the reason that, after doing good work for a number of seasons, is unable to keep pace any longer in fast company. The young hounds will turn out about half good and half bad. The older ones will do for a season or two at least and be useful if too much is not expected of them in the way of speed. The price you pay for either sort of hound must not be very high for, remember, you are not buying top hounds. No master will part with his best. The only way to have a crack pack is to breed

Mrs. Toerge's Camp Comes Back To Win Oaks Hunt Honors

The champion winner, Camp, was back again in Long Island after a year and a half absence, to be awarded the championship of the Oaks Hunt Horse Show at Great Neck, Long Island on Sunday, May 18. Mrs. Norman K. Toerge's exceptional hunter who was familiar in Virginia hunting fields before his ability in the show ring was discovered was ridden by Miss Elizabeth Hyland to his four blues and two seconds in the course of the day. Reserve to Camp was Francis C. Gibbs Gar Ann who ended the attractive one day show under the auspices of the Oaks Hunt with 16 1-2 points to Camp's 20 1-2.

The large crowd on the Rice Farm gave a great hand to Gray Boy in the $300 jumper stake when Eugene Brennan's open jumper topped a field of fourteen horses in the second jump-off. The next two places were settled by Miss Patty McDermott on her Kinnead and Mrs. James Wallace another owner-up on her Sensational. Another well known performer in open classes was Little Squire, who although eligible for the championship was vanned from the show before the preliminary. Francis Gibbs gave the aged grey gelding a fine ride to win the Childrens Jumping.

Camp appeared to be in exceptional form, settling down to his jumps well, with none of his earlier tendency to speed up. He approached his fences sensibly and combined this care with his old time elat that left him the outstanding performer in the hunter class over an outside course which he took from F. C. Gibbs Gar Ann; the hack class, the corinthian class, the championship preliminary. Mrs. Berthold Kaufman's chestnut gelding Squire took the blue in the largest class of the day, a working hunter event and this over Camp, Gar Ann and Mrs. James Wallace's bay gelding Sensational.

COMEDIENNE SUCCEEDS IN FINAL TIMBER RACE OF SPRING SEASON

The Philadelphia Inquirer photographer pictured the 8 runners in the Gloucester Fox Hunters Plate, the featured 3-1/2 mile timber race on the closing day of Rose Tree, Saturday, May 17, when Mr. T. Beatty Brown, riding his wife's COMEDIENNE, (2nd from right) came home galloping by 10 lengths. Over the 1st fence, pictured above, are 1. to r.: Mrs. Laurens M. Hamilton's MUSIC MOUNTAIN, L. Gibson, leading the pack, then at top of fence, Christopher Greer, Jr.'s GOLDUN, Mrs. John Bosley III; Rokeby Stable's *RUSTIC ROMANCE, Mr. Sidney Watters, Jr. and J. G. Leiper, Jr.'s *COOLAMBER, Mr. J. S. Disston III. In the 2nd flight, 1. to r. are John Strawbridge's BUNGTOWN, Mr. E. H. Bennett; Arthur I. Meigs' COQ NOIR, Mr. R. P. Hamilton, COMEDIENNE and Mrs. Elizabeth C. Buck's ESPADIN, C. Gill. COMEDIENNE got off to a bad start, took command over the 3rd fence and merely galloped from thereon. Many of her backers were elated as she folded her knees well up, her feet were up to her eyes, over the last to get an official win after two straight disqualifications.

Owners were conspicuously up, riding their own horses in the recent Rocky Fork-Headley Hunt Hunter Trials, held near Columbus, Ohio. John Bingham's photographs here portray Mr. Summer, honoray huntsman of Rocky Fork-Headley, riding his ALLU, to win the blue in the qualified hunters. Mr. White's PETER RABBIT won the scurry, took 2nd in the corinthian, 3rd in the qualified hunters.

CHAMPIONS OF THE 7th ANNUAL WILMINGTON HORSE SHOW (All Photos by Carl Klein)

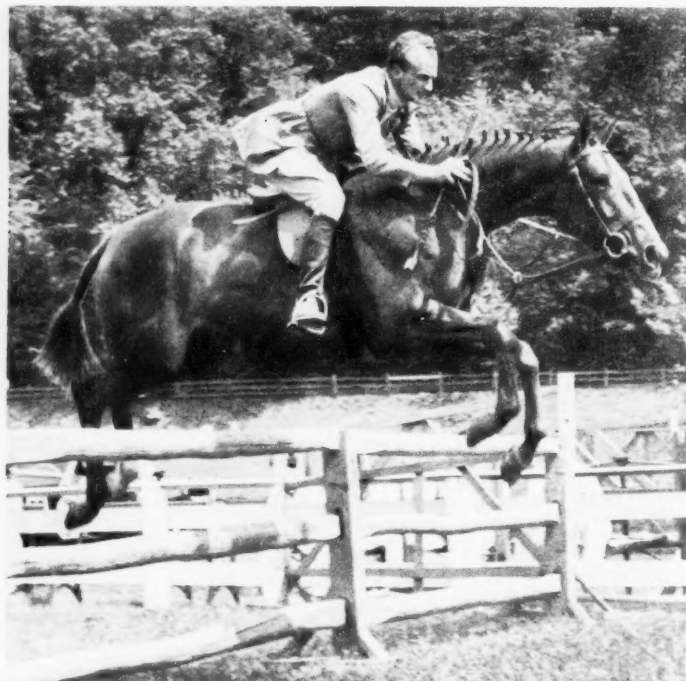

Mrs. George Watts Hill's INKY, fresh from her double at Washington, won the Germania Trophy at Wilmington, emblematic of the Working Hunter Championship. Miss Sue Fuller is shown up.

Miss Patricia du Pont's WOODFELLOW, new locally owned Wilmington conformation star, retired the Dauneport Hunter Champion challenge trophy, for his owner, backing up KINGVULTURE's wins in 1938-39.

Carl Schilling rode Dr. A. J. Laing's FOGGY MORN and FLORISMART to the open jumping championship and reserve at Wilmington, an enviable and unparalleled feat.

Mrs. Sallie Jones Sexton, of Granville, Ohio, sent her Bryn Du Farm performers to Wilmington, where RUNANCARRY, a RUNANTELL mare, won outstanding awards in the green division.

Above is an excellent conformation study of WOODFELLOW, by PLAYFELLOW--RAPPAOOURA. Miss du Pont recently acquired the well known performer from Freddy Pinch, of Montchanin, Del., who had urged former owners, the Edward V. Quinns (Claredda Farm) to part with him.

Notes From Great Britain

English Derby Date Of June 7th At Newbury Promises Huge Crowd From London

For the first time in its history the Derby is being run this year on a Saturday. On June 7th, the English classic, shorn of much of its meaning, kudos and historic value, will be decided at Newbury. The reason a Saturday has been selected is to avoid interference with war work. I imagine there will be a comparatively small field. Amongst other horses already out of the reckoning is Lord Dewar's Reversion, which damaged a bone in a leg. As yet there has been little wagering on the Blue Riband (a rather washed-out blue it will be this year), for it is impossible yet to get a line on which to form an opinion as to the respective merit of the Derby candidates. There has not been a sufficient number of races for this and, moreover, there is no denying that most racehorses are far from being in condition as yet. A famous trainer remarked to me last week: "They need sunshine and public outings." It may well be, indeed one expects it, that what is called 'a turn up' will occur on Derby day. In any case the winner will be invested with but little glory and less stud value than in normal times. Nevertheless, it is well that the Derby should not share the fate of the Grand National. Easy of access from London, there will be a huge crowd at Newbury, although the transference of the classic from Epsom will mean the breaking of many records and hundreds will no longer be able to boast "Never missed a Derby for forty years, old man."

Gordon Richards has been rejected by the army owing to the chest trouble from which he has long suffered. He continues to ride his three winners on many days but, without detracting in the least from his ability, it must be remembered that when a jockey has achieved fame he is able to pick and choose his mounts, and, except in cases of 'retainers', to politely decline those which have little chance in the knowledge that offers will be forthcoming for fancied animals. Often famous jockeys have had the option of two or three mounts, all of which were expected to have a great chance in classic races. In the majority of cases they have picked the wrong one. At the moment of writing, Gordon Richards has not made up his mind whether to ride Morogoro or Owen Tudor in the 2000gs. Each won at Newmarket and though some good judges thought Morogoro gave the better display, it may be that Gordon has a leaning towards Owen Tudor.

May should see the otter hunting season well on its way but there will be little or no 'ottering' (a word hated by purists!) in the north this season. One or two packs in the south will carry on in a desultory sort of way, but a whole concatenation of circumstances has arisen which makes the ancient summer branch of venery increasingly difficult, if not impossible, in other parts—lack of financial support, petrol restrictions for hound-vans (which restrictions also affect followers), military occupation of certain zones, and so on. The older men who rejoiced in hound work and hound music (and especially so during Reynard's rest time), are becoming fewer and to the young brigade, who demand speed, thrills and an element of personal competition between each other, otter-hunting has little appeal. So is it that not a few packs have for some time been 'hand to mouth' and have to a certain extent relied upon funds raised by 'caps' from motorists, who turn up at popular fixtures with cars filled with refreshments. Their objective is solely a picnic-outing in the country, hounds and hunting being a mere incident. Most of them have a certain amount of curiosity; they expect to see otters (and rarely do so!), and to have a spirited hunt (which they do not stay long enough to witness).

A number of fox cubs which have been dug out have been saved from destruction by sportsmen who intend to rear them as pets. Usually these attempts prove disappointing. A fox in captivity is generally a sorry animal if confined, whilst, if given freedom he inevitably disappears. One wonders if there is such a thing as a 'tame fox'. Personally I doubt it. There have been cases in which foxes have shown some of the affection of a dog, but there comes a day when they either bite, or find the call of the wild stronger than attachment to people or to place. Usually it is the love moon which proves undeniable; sometimes it is an inborn yearning to hunt and to taste warm red blood in woodland and field. In this connection I have received an interesting letter from Mr. A. S. Harris of Barnard Castle, in which he says:

"Last April I was invited to a badger dig at Marrick Abbey and in one earth which we dug out was a litter of 11 fox cubs, about 10 days old judging by the fact that some just had their eyes open and some not quite open. If this was two litters, then they were in the same earth and exactly the same age, so that it seems rather unlikely. The terriers killed six cubs and we took out five alive. I took one home and reared it. My wife kept it in a box with cottonwool, over the kitchen range, and fed it every few hours with a baby's bottle. Very soon it was able to climb out of its box and lived in the kitchen for several weeks. Our efforts to house-train it were in vain so it was banned to the yard where it had a box in a small shed. It was remarkably tame with us, but shy of strangers. It played for hours with a kitten and terrier puppy. On one occasion we found it in a neighbour's garden frolicking with an aged Scottish terrier. As a matter of experiment I castrated this fox at about two month's old to see if one really could be tamed. I thought this would help to keep it from straying during the breeding season. Incidentally it was an excellent subject for ether anaesthesia, going under and recovering very quickly. However, at about six

Mr. and Mrs. Bedford Judge School Show At Greenwood

BY WOOGIE

One more Friday morning dawned, wet and ominous, here in Baltimore. The school horse shows just seem doomed. At nine it was raining; at ten, drizzling; eleven looked hopeful; noon, clear; one, the sun was shining, and as the hands of the clock reached two, it was as hot a day as I have ever felt; so Greenwood School started their show after all. Due to the morning rain, Garrison Forest School canceled the vans then reordered them, and arrived in the nick of time, at the ring on Cinder Road near Timonium Md. The judges Mr. and Mrs. Dean Bedford of Monkton, Md.) were ready; so on this May 16, Captain Boris D. Wolkonsky opened the program by exhibiting The Greenwood Harriers, (10 1-2 couple) Captain Wolkonsky is the riding instructor and master of the harriers. The girls hunt this pack regularly (twice a week during the hunting season) taking turns acting as "whippers-in". Today Caryl Casselberry and Evelyn Patterson (wearing their hunt collars of maroon piped in gold) assisted the Captain.

The David McIntosh Memorial Trophy was presented to Celeste Hutton, who in the opinion of the judges had made the best performance, and shown good sportsmanship throughout the show.

Orient owned by the school, won the laurels for champion hunter, and Northcliffe owned by Caroline Steinman was the reserve.

Harriet Stokes had acquired the most points, thus winning the title of champion rider.

Captain Wolkonsky deserves credit for planning a very interesting handy hunter course. About a mile long and within that mile there were 12 jumps, of various kinds; two right angle turns, a hill to go down, and up. Red Branch ridden by Gillian Crimmins had a nice even way of going and won the class. Sally Whitaker rode the hardest part of the course without stirrups, proving herself a real rider. Mary Hill on Squealer made an unusual picture at the second jump, as month's old it found that it could climb the wall and used to go off for short intervals and return for food. Once it returned after five day's absence and then disappeared for good. It stuck to the neighborhood and was frequently seen but by myself once only. A few weeks ago I heard of its death. It was hunted by some boys with terriers and gave in after about half-a-mile. It was identified as my fox by the collar. I should think the hard winter probably had something to do with its poor attempt at escape from dogs."

Pennsylvania Shows Combine In Assn. For Mutual Aid

In order to further horse shows in Pennsylvania a group of nine horse shows have combined in an Association known as the Pennsylvania Horse Show Association. The Association was first organized in March with representatives from the York Show, 104th Cavalry Show, Harrisburg Show, Reading Show, Quentín Show, Allentown Show, Brandywine Show, Lancaster Show.

At the first meeting James T. Duffy, Jr. of York was elected President and Martin E. Risser of Lancaster, Pa. was chosen Secretary-Treasurer. It was decided that two members from each of the Horse Show Committees would constitute a Board of Directors and it was agreed to incorporate as a non-profit organization with the following purpose in mind: To further horse shows, to cooperate on dates of shows and to cooperate to insure the success of member's shows. It was felt that this was a great stride towards better organization and co-operation among the groups who are putting on shows as they might share the burden of the shows as a corporate group.

Squealer refused, sat right down on his haunches and placed his front hoofs on the top rail with Mary still in the saddle.

In the horsemanship jumping class, Betty Stettinius' Juniper went straight up in the air, (seeming to forget to come down) but, due to the laws of gravity, he did come down, landing with his belly on the middle bar of the hog back jump, his front feet kicking the third bar off. Luckily no damage was done. At first it looked like neither horse nor rider could come through without at least a fall. (In the next class you should have seen him clear it!)

SHOW FOR SALE

Because Colonel Pleas B. Rogers of the United States Remount Service, commanding officer of the Front Royal Depot, is a firm believer in the real hunter as the ideal type for the army's cavalry horse, he has long been an advocate of every effort to promote the hunter type not only through the government buying program, but by encouraging owners and dealers. The more good hunters there are being bred with sufficient bone and stamina, the more Colonel Rogers feels the army's plans for maintaining a horse reserve of good stock is being furthered.

Horse shows are one of the best methods for advertising the hunting horse, for testing its performance, for proving its ability. Last year Front Royal had its annual show to which the public was cordially invited and a great effort made to encourage the dealer and the farmer owner, as well as the individual owner, to compete. Not feeling that it was fair to John Q. Public to be asked to compete against the government's horses for whom he is paying taxes, government horses were not shown in classes with privately owned horses. The show was a great success and this year Front Royal will have a two-day show, with entries assured from some of the best hunter stables in the country, a non-profit show for green hunters similar to last year's show.

The head of the Remount at Front Royal is not, however, content with just a show, particularly when the idea as far as his connection with the government is concerned, is to develop a market and increase the opportunities for dealers willing to breed the government's ideal cavalry horse, the hunter. Remembering the great Dublin Show, the Colonel has taken a leaf from its book and organized a real selling show with provisions for selling the horses entered if their owners wish to sell. For this purpose, the show is providing the services of a first class auctioneer. Each horse entered in the show that is available for sale, is to be starred in the program. At four o'clock Saturday afternoon, June 28, the spectators will have a chance to buy themselves some horses that they have seen really tried by two days of competition in the show ring. It is an original idea and one that is not familiar to this country, but certainly a most sensible one. There are shows that have included selling classes but horses in these classes seem to have a stigma attached to them and prices have not proven particularly satisfactory whereas an entire selling show is somewhat in the nature of a grand field day and auction where everybody can be buying and selling with the auction climaxing the whole show.

This Front Royal Show provides the complete selling machinery. The classes are to be divided and horses in 3-year-old categories will compete separately against each other. Four-year-olds will have their own class. Older horses their own. Some classes are restricted purely to bona fide farmer breeders, a thought that the Colonel developed last year and one that carries out extremely well the purpose of the entire governmental remount program of boosting the farmer who is willing to breed, develop and sell the ideal cavalry horse. Incidentally, helping the farmer display his horses is not a bad idea for any hunting community. The possibilities in a show of this kind are tremendous. It has all of the attraction of the regulation green hunter show with its breeding classes, green classes and classes for open jumpers. It has in addition, however, all of the interest and excitement of the horse auction coupled with the rare opportunity for those interested in green hunter prospects to actually see them perform in competition with other horses over a two-day period. Colonel Rogers seems to have something here. It is a contribution to the summer circuit that could well be emulated elsewhere.

Letters to the Editor

Iroquois From Pa.

May 19, 1941

Philadelphia, Penna.,

Iroquois Penna.-Bred

Dear Sir:-

In The Chronicle of May 16, the writer of the very interesting account of the Iroquois 'Chase gives the State of Tennessee as the birth place of Iroquois, the only American bred horse to win The English Derby.

There have been great race horses bred in Tennessee but she cannot claim Iroquois as a native son. Iroquois was by Leamington out of Maggie B. B. by imported Australian and was bred by Aristides Welsh at the Erdenheim Stud, Chestnut Hill, Pennsylvania. He was sold as a yearling to Pierre Lorillard in whose colors he won the English Derby. The Erdenheim Stud is now the property of George D. Widener and under the able management of the veteran trainer, A. J. Joyner, continue to send many high class horses to the races.

With best wishes,

Sincerely yours,

Edward M. Cheston

(Editor's Note: The writer of The Chronicle's article mistakenly interpreted the statement appearing in the Iroquois Memorial Steeplechase program: "Iroquois, a Tennessee horse, was the only American-bred horse to ever win the English Derby. He is buried at Belle Meade, Tenn." as Tennessee-bred. We stand corrected and appreciate Mr. Cheston's interest.)

May 16, 1941

Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Sir:

I want to thank you on behalf of the local hunt clubs for the cooperation in giving publicity to their meetings. As publicity man for them, it is naturally most appreciated by me, but I know from conversations with many hunt members, that they also have appreciated it very much.

I hope that you get up to Rose Tree as that timber race should be well worth coming all the way to see.

Very sincerely,

George W. Orton,

Mr. and Mrs. Conway Dominate Sun Set Riding Club Show

BY EDWARD DICKINSON

It was the entries of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel H. Conway of Oswego who had the best of it at the Sun Set Riding Club's Fourth Annual Horse Show, held on May 25 just out of Rochester (N. Y.) Their Burma, a daughter of the Canadian thoroughbred, Fitz William, with Daniel Conway, himself, up knocked over the blue in the amateur jumping, the open jumping, and the knock down and out, while in each of these events a lesser ribbon went to a stable mate, viz. Edminton in amateur jumping and open jumping, and Mermald in knock down and out. The novice jumping went to Allen E. Dye's Miss Pumpkins, a daughter of Northcliffe.

A small but extremely fine hunter class brought before the spectators the get of Long Tongue, Northcliffe, Thunderation, Harmonicon, and Masquerado with Monica, a daughter of Harmonicon winning it. (I believed till this show that Monica was a daughter of Adams Express, but learned the correct sire.) Both Monica and Sunrise by Masquerado were ridden by Frederick K. von Lambeck while Allen E. Dye rode his own entry, Miss Pumpkins for the yellow and Frank Snyder rode Mr. and Mrs. William C. Faugh Jr.'s Skyward by Long Tongue for the white. In fact, so few ribbons below the blue have gone to Skyward that it's almost head line news when he comes out without that bit of deep azure for first.

The horsemanship class for riders thirteen and under nineteen was a clean sweep for Robert Glover who rode in the ring for the first time his Tellepah by Lardi. This big gelding has just come to the Glover Stable at Genesee and was sired by Lardi before the latter was sent by the U. S. Remount to the Genesee Valley.) The horsemanship class for younger riders went to Miss Donna Rogers.

The club boasts a trophy for pleasure hacks ridden by members of the club. It's a huge thing—a column of brass that might well have been a newel post in a metropolitan railroad station—and it went for its third handle to James R. Morse on his Nancy Dare by Mexico's Admirer, giving Mr. Morse his second claim on it, three required to retire.

*Dalchoolin Puts In Winning Performance At Rockwood Hall

BY NEVA MINTON

At the Fox Hill Farms, snuggled precariously into the side of the Pocantico hills of northern Westchester there was held last Sunday, May 25, the 9th Annual Rockwood Hall Horse Show recognizable only by its name. The rustic countrified setting of the new location was in great contrast to the old show grounds on the several thousand acre, painstakingly landscaped estate, formerly the home of Mr. Rockefeller. As well as a nice level ring this new setting affords the advantage of an intricate outside course and good stabling facilities, the only bad feature being the clouds of dust sweeping off the hill to descend upon the already dusty ring.

Champion of the small, but select group of hunters was Mrs. Elizabeth Correll's *Dalchoolin whom she imported from Ireland two years ago. In reserve place was his stable mate, the five year old, chestnut, heavy-weight Scotchwood, a Virginia champion as a 3-year-old. *Dalchoolin ridden by Marion Loucks and Gordon Wright won the hunter stake, the ladies and the working hunter class and several lesser ribbons. Scotchwood with the same pair of capable riders followed close to *Dalchoolin's footsteps and succeeded in winning over the champion in the class for hunters under saddle.

The next closest rival in the hunter division was Foxford, who, owned and ridden by Jack Melville, won the corinthian class and the championship preliminary but was far behind in total points. Gordon Wright's Slieve Bloom, winner of the green and lightweight classes had the misfortune to slip on a corner in the preliminary and fall thereby being placed 4th.

Socks, owned by Mrs. Oscar Ehrhorn and ridden by Al Homewood, having won the jumper stake, blues in two other open classes and 3rd in the touch and go, was jumper champion with 17 points over F. J. Sheffield's Sheff's Pal with 11.

The knock down and out class produced some interesting competition and was finally won by Paddy Shannon owned and ridden by Hugh Kelly. This newcomer would be hard to forget, having four white legs and an entirely white face. He has had an equally amazing career. He was imported from Ireland in 1934 by Hugh Gormley, has hunted for several seasons and was shown by a U. S. Army chaplain, Father Sullivan in Boston in 1939 where he won the heavyweight hunter class. He was then given to Mr. and Mrs. Kelly and has since become a family pet.

The horsemanship classes were dominated by Frank Carrolls' pupils, Billy Steinkraus winning the championship. This versatile young rider displayed excellent form on a new saddle horse which he has just obtained to ride in good hands classes and showed his greater ability riding his Salmo in all the open jumper contests.

Best Peruvian Runner Comes To California

A. T. Jergins, director of Hollywood Turf Club, recently completed negotiations to obtain Meissen, the wonder horse of South America, bred and raced by his owner, Senor Anibal Perez Velez of Lima, Peru. Shipping 4,329 miles, accompanied by his groom, who speaks no English, the 5-year-old son of Adams Apple (a 2,000 Guineas winner in England), left Callao, Peru, on May 16, bound for Rancho San Louis Rey, San Diego, Calif., where he is expected the end of this month, to be the first outstanding Peruvian horse ever imported to this country.

After a freshening up, the champion horse of the Peruvian turf and leading money winner will be headed for the $75,000 Hollywood Gold Cup. In November, 1940 he ran 1 1-4 miles in a new record time of 2:02, winning the 2,000 peso Presidente there while carrying 134 lbs. He last raced on January 19, when he won over a distance of 1 1-2 miles, in 2:31 1-5.

With no racing for 2-year-olds in Peru, he won 6 races out of 7 and was 3rd in his first start as a 3-year-old. He won over routes from 6 1-2 furlongs to 1 7-8 miles and beat the best, winning 12,000 pesos. In 1940, as a 4-year-old, he ran one dead heat, won 8, was 2nd twice and 3rd once in 12 starts, winning 29,070 pesos to lead the Peruvian turf. His total winnings to date are thus over 41,000 pesos, all won in classics of his land, under the training of Jesus Torres "preparador" and riding of Jockey Alfonso Carbonell.

Meissen is a horse of enormous size, weighing close to 1,300 pounds. He is by Adams Apple, one of England's talented distance horses, a record breaker, who went to Argen-

Broad Jump Feature Of Glen Head Show On Sunday, June 9

Edward J. Brennan, manager of the Glen Head Horse Show, which will be held on June 8th, Sunday, at Glen Head, Long Island, has announced that entries are coming in well for the show this year. There are five pony and hack classes, eight open jumping classes, a jumping sweepstake, and fourteen hunter classes.

An interesting addition to the Glen Head Show is a broad jump which provides spectators and riders alike considerable thrill. A brush apron is used at the take off and the jump itself is spaced out with card-tina for an enormous price, there to sire Meissen, from Delftt, by Your Majesty. It may be recalled that Kayak II's dam was also by Your Majesty. (Adams Apple, in winning 2000 Guineas, beat Call Boy, Derby winner, and Sickle).

"The Good Neighbor Meissen", winner of 14 out of 19 starts, carrying this heavily weighted in the Independencia last July 30, when he set a Peruvian record of 2:29 4-5 for the 1 1-2 miles, ran out of competition last year, having one walkover. His time for this 1 1-2 miles is just 1-5 of a second slower than Bimelech's Belmont Stakes time in 1940, with 126 lbs., despite being on grass.

The racing in Peru is from April 15 through January 20, Saturdays and Sundays, with horses running over grass. The tracks are not as fast as in Argentina, a great deal of rain falling rendering the going frequently "squashy". The Australian barrier, with strands of steel wire, is employed for starting; horses racing the "wrong way", clockwise.

board boxes. The width of the jump is stretched two feet at a time until the contest is ended. Two trials are given at each width and a refusal is considered as a trial. The starting distance is 8 feet.

Entries for Glen Head closed Thursday, May 29 with the secretary, Miss Helen Brennan. Mrs. Jean R. McKinney and Mrs. Beatrice Wechsler have been asked to judge the saddle ponies and hack classes. Hunters and jumpers will be judged by William W. Brainard, Jr., Mrs. Jean R. McKinney, Mrs. Wechsler and Robert B. Young if they all accept. Malcom Bonyng is president of this one day show held on Stephen H. Townsend's estate which annually draws some of the best of the show horses.

Bow Chaser Awarded Doughoregan Manor Show Championship

BY WOOGIE

Mrs. Catherine Christie's Bow Chaser won the hunter championship at the nineteenth annual Doughoregan Manor Horse Show, held for the benefit of the Howard County Public Health Association on Saturday, May 17.

At 9:30 it was a beautiful sunny day, and the lovely old Carroll estate made a picturesque setting for the show. Dr. J. W. Edel arrived in his Irish Jaunting Cart. The green cart and yellow wheels made a bright spot, midst the cars that encircled the ring.

Colonel P. B. Rogers of the U. S. A. Front Royal Remount Station in Virginia first judged two breeding classes, then ponies and finally hunters.

Orient, the chestnut hunter, that won the championship yesterday, at the Greenwood School Show, entered the hunter hack class, and after one turn around the ring came out, having been kicked by one of the 33 entries. Luckily he was kicked above the knee on the forearm, nevertheless he was out of today's classes and maybe next week's too.

Eileen Smith rode Charles C. Freeland's Limerick Lace II to victory in the pony saddle and pony jumping classes, thus winning pony championship, with H. O. Firor's Twinkle as reserve. Limerick Lace II again received a blue coupled with Chit Chat and Betsy in the junior hunt teams.

Sisters placed first and second in the Howard County hunters. Upon receiving the cup, Joan Randall turned to her big sister, Louise, and exclaimed excitedly, "Weezy, I beat you! I beat you!"

In so many shows the classes are so far behind that lunch is usually a snack grabbed at some odd moment, but not so today. A committee headed by Mrs. W. Bladen Lowndes and Mrs. Norman H. Warfield, served a delicious lunch. There were booths and tables under the huge old trees, and it all looked very festive. This scene soon changed to a very dreary one as it poured "cats and dogs" by the time the ladies hunter class started. The rain continued until the end of the show and then, like magic, the clouds parted leaving the sun in all her glory, to shine on us, as we drove home.

In the qualified hunter class, Catherine Morgan's Marrekech gave Mr. P. D. Reid a chance to show his steeplechase experience, as Marrekech ran around the ring jumping 4 extra jumps. Getting him under control, Pete took him over a coop and started on the outside course. A refusal at the third almost put Pete off. Marrekech ran under trees with low branches (but it takes more than that to dismount a good rider.) The black gelding was made to finish the course in spite of his unwillingness.

The open jumping was over the same course of 13 jumps. Linky Smith rode three horses in this class, winning with Pat Patrick's Parson. The course took the horses over the drive leading to the house. Margaret C. went well until she failed to see that the lawn was raised slightly from the driveway, so stumbled to her knees and rolled over. Linky getting out of the way in the nick-of-time. There is an excuse for Margaret C. as she is blind in her left eye and she does remarkably well, in spite of this handicap. Redeeming herself, she won the knockdown and

BY SHEILA MCCREERY

The 27th annual Junior Riding Competition, under the auspices of the Greenwich Riding Association, was held on Saturday May 17, at the Round Hill Stables, with the Greenwich Academy, Rosemary Hall, Greenwich Country Day, and College of New Rochelle competing.

As the show began, a large thunder cloud hovered overhead, but, somehow, just managed to miss the ring by a small margin. The good luck, however, was not to continue as, before long, a steady rain began to fall so that the show had to be moved indoors—much to the disappointment of some and extreme joy of others, who were dressed for a hot May day.

This year the show wasn't as big as those in former years, because the Rye Country Day girls, who always made a lot of entries, did not show, but, even without them, it was a big success and most of the classes were well filled.

The champion rider was Kathleen Jennings from Greenwich Academy, who won first place in both the jumping and riding classes for boys and girls over fifteen, as well as a second in the side saddle class. The cup, which is a perpetual challenge trophy, was presented by Mrs. H. P. Serrell. Reserve went to one of the out at 5'-2". Linky deserves a lot of credit as he gets her into the jumps so that she can see with her right eye, and still jump straight.

The third prize for open jumping, had everyone very much worried for a good ten minutes. The horse called out had not even competed in the class. I noticed Patrick Smithwick holding Bacon Boy, anxiously awaiting the verdict, and no wonder because Patty knew that the $10 belonged to him (at least he hoped so). The jury (made up of all the show committee) came out of their huddle and Patty received the envelope. It was rushed at once to Mrs. Alfred Smithwick for safe keeping.

younger girls, Ethel Skakel, also from the Academy, who won two firsts, one in the younger girls competition, and the other in the open side saddle class. She placed third in the 3' 6" jump event for boys and girls under fifteen, and this brought her to within three points of the champion.

The Ruth West Campbell Cup, which can only be won outright by the same school winning the highest number of points for three successive years, went, this time, to Rosemary Hall with twenty points more than the Academy, its nearest contender. But, until the last two classes, it was anybody's guess as to which would win as the score rallied back and fourth with neither school more than five points in the lead, at any time.

The boys, although very much in the minority, put up grand performances, with Jackie Robinson winning the novice class for boys and girls under twelve, and second in the novice jumping. Danny Willis was another strong contender from the Greenwich Country Day, and it was especially nice to see these boys, with Larry Schnlewind and Terry Tilt, get third place in the team class. In this, the Challenge Trophy, presented by Rye Country Day, went to the Academy team of Ethel Skakel, Pixie Meek, Peggy Klipstein, and Kathleen Jennings. Two Rosemary teams placed second and fourth.

Nancy Dean and Zella Kunhardt were top riders from the Academy in the open classes for those under twelve, while Maggie Ohstrum and Janet Rinke, from Rosemary, won first and second in the novice classes for boys and girls between twelve and fifteen.

The last event of the afternoon was for teams of three jumpers, competing for the M. E. Lowndes trophy. This class was judged on the performance of the horses alone, and the team having the least number of faults was the winner. This was the Academy team of Ethel Skakel, Peggy Klipstein, and Kathleen Jennings who put up an almost perfect performance, with three Rosemary teams coming in behind. Sally Badger, Shirley Strotz, and Marion Rockefeller won the red ribbon.

It wouldn't be right to finish this without saying a word about Mrs. Serrell, chairman of the show, who did everything to make it the success it was, and also to thank Ted Wahl for making it possible.

Mrs. Robert P. Noble of Greenwich and Mr. Jack Prestige of Watertown, Conn., were the judges.

Ipswich, did a thorough job in a borrowed Pentucket white coat with "Blue"—so named for her wall eye. Mrs. James P. Whittall, Master of Brigham Hill Beagles and responsible for two—"Brenda" and "Benefit"—had a struggle keeping "Benefit" facing the judges.

Mr. Phelan, one of Ipswich's best farmers, showed the winning hound which certainly deserved to win. This hound, I understand, was one of the few new entry already started when returned to the pack.

In my opinion, no matter how well bred, the best hunting hounds—Foxhound, Beagle or Harrier—are those well walked. Mr. Appleton is lucky in having the persuasive powers and charm necessary to have people clamor for a couple of his beagles during the summer.

Mr. Chetwood Smith, master of Sir-Sister, judged assisted by Mr. Bayard Tuckerman Jr., Master of both Quansett and Myopia. They placed the puppies as follows:—

Dogs—1. Waldingfield Tuner, 2nd. Waldingfield Raider, 3rd. Waldingfield Robber.

Bitches—1. Waldingfield Tullp, 2nd Waldingfield Benefit, 3rd. Waldingfield Brenda.

Next followed an invitation class for other packs. This was won in Dogs by:—

1. Waldingfield Tuner in again as winner of the previous class, 2nd. Brigham Hill Michael, 3rd. Pentucket Farmer.

In the invitation class for Bitches, Covellane won 1st, 2nd and 3rd with their Music, Mascara and Ruby. Music and Tuner were then judged together for best in show and Tuner won, making Mr. Appleton the winner of the prize—an appropriate carved wooden beagle.

The audience consisted of beagles, foxhunters, professors, the clergy, maiden aunts, an Ensign and an Army Officer. More people than hounds, as is usual, but they all enjoyed themselves, and were all asked back by the host to his charming old Farmhouse. This Farm, long Mr. Appleton's own special homestead, was completely renovated last fall and has one of the finest collections of sporting prints in America hanging on its walls.

I wish all Beagle Packs might have as nice a puppy show when the hunting season is over.

UNITED HUNTS MEETING

not been raced for since. It is being brought back in competition and will provide one of the features of the United Hunt program this year.

At the time the Piping Rock Club was holding its meetings in 1911 and 1912 the United Hunts was carrying on at their terminal course across Hempstead Turnpike from Belmont Park. It was there that they made their test case which was upheld by the courts and brought about oral betting and the return of racing in New York.

The United Hunts which has been brought to the best financial condition in its history by Lewis E. Waring, president, is sparing no expense in laying out the course for the June 14 meeting. The course, approximately one mile, will provide for brush, hurdle and flat races which will make up the card of 7 events. Two grandstands at the finish line and accommodations for pari-mutuel betting are now being constructed.

he pleased. However, down the back stretch the last time Bladen, who was bred in this country and raced in England and only returned over here last summer, was sent up to Amalfi, after first doing away with Scotch Tar's bid, when the John Hay Whitney color bearer looked to have much left. Bladen had put in several bad ones. Over the 10th it was Bladen and Amalfi head and head, and this was all but the end of Jockey Bellhouse.

Such a bad blunder did Bladen make that Jockey Bellhouse, one of the very best in the game, was way up over his mount's neck and head. When he got back in the saddle, the reins were on the off-side, despite the Irish martingale loops which are supposed to prevent such an occurrence. Jockey Bellhouse did not give up, he used his wits, his whip, his hands and heels. Bladen went to running again, quickly got to Amalfi, and jumped the last two fences with the peculiar situation of having a lot of control to go to the right, and all the last 1-16 was to the left. Still with the use of the whip to turn him, Jockey Bellhouse was out on top over the last two, and as Amalfi faded, it was all Bladen's Maiden Stake by many lengths—so much so that there was no need to ride the Clark color-bearer out, and risk the chance that he might run left handed up the Widener chute. As it was Bellhouse just stood up and held him together and he just lasted to win as Jockey Brown on Mrs. V. L. Black's Strolling On made a desperate effort to catch Bladen in the run in from the last fence.

The Maiden Stake runners numbered 8, with H. E. Jenkins' Sunbee being the lone casualty, falling when right up near the pace, at the 9th fence. Greentree Stable's Roll and Toss refused to break and after once getting underway, when the rest were some 1-16 of a mile on their way, he bolted and was pulled up.

*Arch Hero's performance was really worthy of note, and definitely stamps him a stake horse of high calibre and one to reckon with throughout the remainder of the season. He went head and head with Ossabaw and Satilla over the 1st and then opened up 5 to 6 lengths and held this as he placed for the rest of the way. He merely out-jumped and out-ran two horses each 7 years older and more experienced. He had speed in reserve at the end with his rider, Jockey W. N. Ball never having doubts. Satilla jumped well and was held in the place position throughout, while Ossabaw never got to the pace in the last mile, with his rider, jockey Penrod not persevering.

Last Friday, May 23, Mrs. Reginald Sinclair's *Yemasee, from her Colorado stables, took the Sir Wooster, gaining Jockey S. Riles his first win at the big tracks. Jockey Riles had previously booted home a winner or two for the W. Hayhurst trained Sinclair string at the hunt meetings this spring, only starting riding in earnest this spring. *Yemasee, 143, beat Briar Blue, 136, and Fatty, 148, with Briar Blue pulling up lame.

S. Bryce Wing's Broadside King, in the best form of his career, was the winner of the Piping Rock chase, driving by 1½ lengths, as Mrs. Gwladys Whitney's Rhadamanthus, with Mr. F. H. Powers, Jr., up took the place, on Saturday. Seven started with Eran De Perse of Thomas Hitchcock's string, recently sold to Bayard Sharp, of Wilmington, Del., falling as did Mr. Clark's Night Heron.

Mr. George H. "Pete" Bostwick

had a nice even ride on his West Hadden, a son of New Jersey Neddle, to win the steeplechase on Monday, May, 26, as he won driving from Brother Jones and his riding ability was greatly responsible for the verdict. Harold Talbott's Brother Jones showed exceeding form and is to be reckoned with later. E. B. Schley's *Frederic II was the show winner.

Cannabis, winner of the jumpers, is a very versatile animal in that he not only consistently wins in the ring during the season, but also has been a working hunter with Beaufort Hounds, Harrisburg, and is a very fine officer's mount with the 104th Cavalry at Indiantown Gap. Big Chief, the runner-up in this division is the same determined jumper he has been for many years, ever since Harry Millard, of Anneville, bought him from the F. Woodson Hancocks, of Valley Forge, Pa. He is now owned and ridden by Mr. Millard's grandson, Harry Williams.

Jim Duffy, York sportsman and chairman of the horse show there, was consistently in the ribbons and turned in some fine performances on his 17.2 chestnut 4-year-old, Irish Chief, a probable future winner from down Wilmington, Del. way. Other good performers were Paul Badorf's By the Way, of Cynwyd and William Lettler, of Medford Lakes, N. J., with Highland Jayag.

Danger Man, owned by Mahlon N. Haines, of York, was a popular favorite but he unfortunately pulled up lame the first day.

Incidentally, of interest to horse owners throughout the East, especially those of the open jumping division, is the fact that Hale Steinman's (Lancaster, Pa.) Gossip was killed while in training for the circuit several weeks ago at their stables there. The great success that Miss Peggy Mills had with Gossip is recalled, with notable tricolors for open jumping gained throughout Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York last year.

Judges in both divisions were: Capt. Henry B. Coxe, First Troop, Philadelphia City Cavalry and M. F. H. of Whitmarsh and Lieut. William H. Ashton, also of the Philadelphia City Cavalry Troop, and M. F. H. of Eagle Hounds, near Edgemont, Pa.

Wright up. In the amateur jumping class he was piloted to a blue by William Steinkraus. This gave him a total of 15 1-2 points against 11 won by Major Bowes, Phil Quartier's grey jumper, with the owner up. Major Bowes won a 1st and two 2nds, and did not compete in the amateur class, which counted for half-points. Runner-up was Fred Wettach's 7-year-old grey mare, Plymouth Rock.

Monkey Man, owned by Miss Patricia Townsend and ridden by her sister, Joan, stood out among the hunters, and performed evenly throughout the show. This 8-year-old chestnut gelding took blues in the working, hack and the light, middle or heavyweight hunter classes, and 3rd in the light-weight.

Many New Jersey children came up to compete for the horsemanship ribbons, and Dick Van Winkle put up an especially nice performance on his Meadow Sensation, winning the Eastern Breeders class over horses who had been consistently at the top. Miss Fifi Moeckel excelled with the best figure-eight, which gave her the good hands cup; no Maclay class was offered. Both the A. H. S. A. Medal and the M. E. C. Non-Profit Hunter Show Planned By U. S. Government

W. G. RAND, JR., LT. Q. M. C.

The Front Royal Remount Horse Show to be held June 27th and 28th, 1941 is a nonprofit venture conducted by the Government. All money which is collected from entries, attendance, etc. is turned back to the exhibitor in the form of cash awards and trophies. In this year's show, particular emphasis will be placed on green hunter classes. The prize list, now available, includes four classes for 3-year-old hunters and the same number for 4-year-olds. There is a championship in each age group and, from all appearances at such an early date, a large entry in each section is anticipated.

In addition to this there will be a breeding division devoted primarily to the "Farmer-Breeder", one who is dependent for his livelihood on the breeding and raising of horses.

The sale, which will be held at 4:00 P. M. Saturday, is a new idea in the United States, and there is every prospect of an excellent attendance. All horses to be sold must have shown in at least one class during the course of the show. Prospective buyers will, therefore, have the opportunity to observe young horses in action, see how they are rated by the judges, and will later be able to bid on them at the sale. A reserve will be placed in a sealed envelope on every horse to be sold prior to the sale, and when the horse is knocked down the bid will be opened. If the amount shown therein is in excess of the bid, the animal will not be sold, and if the amount is less than the bid, the animal will be declared sold. The seller has the option to produce a Veterinarian's Certificate at the time the horse reaches the show grounds or to call upon the services of one of two local veterinarians whose services will be granted them free of charge on the grounds. The buyer may also use the services of the latter at no charge; in doing this it is hoped to safeguard the interests of both seller and buyer. (Although the Government will auction no horses, it is expected that many horses exhibited in the show will later be offered at the sale.)

Both the show and the sale are being sponsored by the majority of Masters of Fox Hounds and prominent breeders throughout the neighboring countryside, and the management anticipates that June 27th and 28th will provide a meeting place for exhibitors, breeders, dealers, and prospective buyers.

Mrs. Jones' Duck And Mr. Jones' Fox

The Master Found The Fox
Just Where Mr. Jones Had Told Him He Would

By A. Henry Higginson, M. F. H.

Hounds had met at North Perrott that morning, and because it was a popular meet in the Cattistock country, there were a great many people out, in spite of the fact that it had been a cold night and that there was a bit of a bone in the ground. We found our first fox in Crundle Hill, but he was a ringer and we didn't get much of a hunt before he got to ground in an open earth in The Somersetshire Holts, that impenetrable wilderness which Squire Farquharson mentions with such scorn in some of his early diaries. For once, Matravers Gorse failed to hold and Wethams Bushes held only a vixen from which hounds had to be stopped. The day was getting on and we had had no really good hunt, and though the Field were too good sportsmen to grumble openly, the feeling of disappointment began to manifest itself and people began to drop out and go home. No one who has not been a Master realizes quite the feeling of responsibility for the day's sport which one is bound to have. Of course it cannot be helped if foxes are not to be found or if those that are found are crooked-necked ones, and I don't think that the Master is usually held responsible, but still the feeling does prevail, and I was beginning to worry a bit, when one of the best of our Cattistock sporting farmers, Mr. Jones, rode up beside me.

"Master," he said, "draw the little covert that lies between Pendomer Rectory and my farm. My wife has been losing a lot of poultry lately and she asked me to tell you that she hoped you could catch the marauder."

"I will," I answered, "but don't you think he's more likely to be lying in Kit Hill covert? However, it's all on the way; I'll draw it certainly."

I dislike very much giving a Huntsman orders about his movements in the field when hunting hounds. I have always held that it is quite unfair to a good man to hamper him with instructions; for, after all, since he is responsible for the sport, he ought to be allowed to do it himself. However, I do sometimes make an exception by telling a Huntsman what covert to draw next, and in this case I rode over to Holland and repeated Mr. Jones' suggestion to him. He sniffed scornfully.

"That Mrs. Jones' fox," he said, "she's always making suggestions and always complaining about the loss of her poultry. We'll never find anything in that Rectory covert."

"Never mind," I said, "never mind. Jones is an important farmer. It wouldn't take five minutes and we'll draw it on the way to Kit Hill. We'll probably find there."

Holland touched his cap. "Very good, Sir," he answered. He called to his First Whipper-in, "Jack", he said, "slip round the Rectory covert and keep an eye on the bottom end. I'm going to draw it. You'll just about have time to get around before I put hounds in."

To make a long story short, there was a fox in the Rectory covert; for hounds had hardly been inside for two minutes when we heard Jack holloa away from the far side, and those of us who had gone on, saw "Mr. Charles" as he went away over the road for East Coker. Holland had his hounds on the line in a moment and they went away down the Hardington Vale at a pace that tailed the Field in the next mile or two. Just short of East Coker Village they swung to the right over the railway line, and leaving Sutton Bingham behind them, they passed close to Closworth Church, where the big open ditch near the Rectory took its toll of the Field. On past Holt Mill drove the pack heading for Melbury, but turning left-handed over the road and into Eighteen Acres, where we had our first check. There was a fresh fox afoot here and had it not been for the quick eye of our First Whipper-in, who saw him as he left the covert and saw that it was not the hunted one, and rated hounds back, we should have lost more time. I think that Holland must have had divine intuition that day, for neither then, nor in the half hour that followed, did he make any mistakes. He simply held his hounds on; hit off the line near Chetnole Withy-bed, and blew them away on the far side as they swung left-handed across the Great Western Railway towards Yetminster. Ten minutes more took us out of our own country into the Blackmore Vale, and we had nearly reached the village of Yetminster when we heard a welcome holloa. Our pilot had been heading straight for the Railway Station, where he had been turned back by some plate-layers who were working on the line. It was one of these who had holloaed, and gave Holland the chance that he wanted to save a valuable two or three minutes. Picking up his hounds, the little Huntsman held them on to the spot indicated by our informant.

"He's just gone into that withy-bed," he shouted, pointing to some willows near the line, "and he's dead beat."

"All right, thank you," said the Huntsman. "Yut, yut, yut", ending as they began to feather, with a cheer, as "Chaplet" opened.

Hounds flew to her; dashed into the covert; and we heard the unmistakable snarl as they killed. Holland was off his horse in a minute and into the covert himself, whence he emerged with "Mrs. Jones' fox." Among those of us who saw the end were Farmer Jones and his small boy, who was about sixteen at the time, he's in H. H. Forces now, for this all happened several years ago. I spied them watching Holland as he broke up his fox, and knowing that the youngster would like to have something to remind him of such a good hunt. I took the brush from Holland and gave it to him. He thanked me, and his father, looking very peased, said,

"I told you you'd find in that covert, Master. My wife will be very pleased." There was a twinkle in his eye as he made this last remark, which aroused a suspicion in my mind, and as we rode home, I called Jones over and said,

"You were very sure there was a fox in that covert this morning, Mr. Jones. Had you any reason to be?"

He laughed. "Well," he answered, "I knew we'd have a good Field out and I didn't want you to be disappointed, so last night, when everybody had gone to bed, I went out to the fowl-house and caught one of my wife's ducks and then I tethered it down in that covert and left it to spend the night there. It was quacking something awful when I left, but there wasn't no noise this morning; only a few feathers, and I thought maybe that fox would lay up nearby. 'Twas an old duck anyway," he added, laughing, "and I wanted the boy to have a hunt. He don't know anything about it;—nor his mother neither! Thank you for a very good day, Sir."

General Public Sport

Continuing on the theory that racing in America is the sport of the general public, and no longer the sport of kings, the management at Delaware Park is repeating two moves which last year sharply increased the enjoyment of racing by the men and women who work in offices, and who get off only part of an afternoon. The feature events will be run 6th on the program. Those who come to the park after the 4th race will be admitted for $1.00 in the clubhouse, and 75 cents in the grandstand. Neither change will apply to the holidays May 30, and July 4th, nor to any Saturdays.

Colo. Junior League Show

Josephine Tutt, foxhunting and show ring hunter enthusiasts, is already hard at work on the Junior League Horse Show of Colorado Springs, Colo., to be held as usual in the Broadmoor ring, which nestles at the foot of Cheyenne Mountain. The committee this year will be Mrs. George Hopkins, chairman, Mrs. John Metzler, vice-chairman and Mrs. O. J. Miller, treasurer. Hunters and jumpers from New Mexico, Colorado and Wyoming congregate for the competition.

Over, Under or Through

The Philadelphia City Troop, now in camp near Indiantown Gap, Pa., which numbers many of America's leading gentlemen riders, foxhunters, beaglers, etc., and of which Henry B. Cox, Jr., M. F. H. of Whitmarsh Valley Hunt (Pa.) since 1935, is Captain, has a motto of "Over, Under or Through." Working like beavers up there, mastering the new arms of the service and learning the ways of mechanized forces, it has been jokingly said that the motto stands for "over work, under fed and never through."

For More Star Fairies

William du Pont, Jr., is sending "Walnut Hall" mares by "Wrack" out of Fair Play dams to David Rust Jr.'s "Rock Ridge Farm" "Gino," to get more mares with breeding like Star Fairy, Star Fairy, an 11-year-old daughter of "The Satrap," out of Fair Star, by "Wrack" out of Etoile Filante by Fair Play has produced Fairy Hill, son of Messenger, Santa Anita Cap winner now a 7-year-old; and Mr. du Pont's favorite hunter "he can jump anything, brush, timber, and he's wonderful across country"; Fairy Vale, full brother to Fairy Hill, a 5-year-old; Fairy Chant, the 4-year-old son of Chance Shot; Fairymant, 3-year-old son of Man o'War; Fairy Manah, 2-year-old son of Man o'War and a Man o'War yearling now at "Walnut." Whereas "The Satrap's" sire was The Tetrarch, "Gino's" grand-sire was The Tetrarch, through Tetratema.

West With 22—East With 4

The master of "Walnut Hall", near Boyce, Va., went to California last winter with 22 horses, to race and sell. William du Pont, Jr., returned this spring to the East with 4. Copperman, 3-year-old son of Messenger, sold to H. S. Nesbitt, ran 3rd in the Santa Anita Derby, 4 lengths away from Porter's Cap the winner. Mr. Nesbitt ran Staretor, also a 3-year-old son of Messenger, but out of Fair Star, dam of the noted Star Fairy, coupled with Copperman. Copperman finished 9th. In the Kentucky Derby it was a different matter for Staretor finished 2nd to the great Whirlaway, the next best in this classic field.

Court Manor's Monday

The late Willis Sharpe Kilmer always had the Monday night of the 2nd week of the Saratoga Sales for the sale of his Court Manor yearlings. This August night has been taken by Mereworth Farm of Walter B. Salmon, which is consigning some 60 yearlings, one of the largest lots of this year's Spa. Coldstream Stud, Labrot and Co., Charles W. Williams and A. S. Hewitt, who last year sold yearlings, will be absent in the list of consignors to be released by Fasig-Tipton Co., shortly. This company anticipates holding a sale of horses in training sometime during Belmont. According to many, there is greater demand than in years for high-class horses.

$15,000 Pony Express

William E. Boeing's trainer Cecil Wilhelm has been working patiently and slowly with Pony Express, the name given to the "Pharamond II" colt bought in the Saratoga Sales of 1940 for $15,000. He is slated to get his first outings in mid-summer. A half-brother of the late El Chico, sensational 2-year-old of 1939, who won over $88,000 in 9 races before breaking a sesamoid, Pony Express is out of La Chica, also dam of Chicuelo, Planetoid and Miyako, winners of some $21,000 in 6 races. On paper he has a great career ahead, with his daddy producing the likes of Whopper and Menow.

Rolling Rock Grading

Richard Wallach, racing secretary for many of the hunt meetings, whose next work is with the Rolling Rock Hunt Meeting on Oct. 8-11 near Ligonier, Pa., drove out over the new "dream highway" to see the grading and landscaping that is taking place on the "chasing course's" finish stretch. To avoid having any more finishes like that of the International Gold Cup, when Fay Cottage and Parma ran 1-2 and were bumping each other all the way through the stretch from the last brush jump, Richard K. Mellon, M. F. H. of Rolling Rock and chairman of the committee, gave orders, and now the bulldozers are busy. "Chasers" will have a leveled green stretch to the finish, and no side-angled slope on which to contend.

Mrs. Bassett's Toss

Up and down hill around sharp turns Mrs. Jane Fowler Bassett's Singing Water flew to win the 1st division of the Featherfield Plate, mile on the flat, at Radnor, May 10, from Mrs. Fay Ingalls' very definitely improved stallion, Sunador, J. V. H. "Bobby" Davis had come down out of the Pennsylvania mountains from his Indiantown encampment with the Philadelphia troop to ride the W. Burling Cocks trained Sunador, 2nd favorite to the Sidney Watters Jr., trained winning Singing Water, who had W. King up. The other division was won in 2:02-2-5 by J. G. Leiper Jr.'s John Adam, a 10-1 shot, with the revived Franky H. Powers Jr., up, having convalesced from his Rhadamanthus mishap of Wednesday. There was a plate valued at $50 for the winner of the Featherfield. Owners were sporting, they matched for it and Mrs. Bassett (referred to in these columns recently as Mrs. Fowler), won the toss.

Aylett's 9th Annual

The 9th Annual Edge Hill Horse Show, to be held at Aylett, Va., on Saturday, May 31, has Alec Calvert and James Guitart, both of Warrenton, doing the judging. There are 23 classes, including the championship, which Jeanne Gwathmey, secy., Mrs. George R. Leslie and Latane Fauntleroy, all of Aylett, have been working long and hard over.

Fairfield's Judges

The Fairfield County Hunt Club Horse Show, June 26-28, has announced hunter judges, Mrs. Scribner Schieffelin, Convent, N. J., Maj. Gen. Guy V. Henry, Chevy Chase, Md., M. Roy Jackson, M. F. H., Bryn Mawr, Pa., and jumper judges, Homer B. Gray, M. F. H., Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and Gerard S. Smith, New Canaan, Conn.

Last Evening of Freedom

Abram S. Hewitt, of Boyce, Va., was a guest at the recent dinner meeting of the Maryland Horse Breeders' Assn., and was called on for a few words by President Janon Fisher, Jr. Said he, "I have been inducted into the government again, and am afraid I won't be back at Pimlico for a long, long time." He added he was glad to be spending his "last evening of freedom" in such good company, talking horses. He is now with O. P. M. D. Sterrett Gittings, one of Maryland's most ardent and well-known horse lovers, and for whom the Gittings Handicap at Pimlico is named, was present. They told this on him. Mr. Gittings, a member of the vestry of St. John's Church, Kingsville, Baltimore County, frequently passes the collection plate. A couple of weeks ago while handing the plate, he was surprised to see a feminine hand place a folded piece of note paper in it as it went by. When church was over and the collection was being counted, he read the note. It ran: "Mr. Gittings, can you please get me two tickets to Pimlico next week?" Epilogue: The tickets were duly sent with this message, "Best of luck to the head of the Women's Auxiliary, from the Senior Warden!"

Warrenton's 22nd.

The Warrenton Pony Show, 22nd annual and oldest in America, will be held on Saturday June 21, with net proceeds to go to the British War Relief. A new class in the customary list of hunter and jumper events is the "Very Modified Olympic", for ponies 13 to 14.2 hands and under, jumps not to exceed 3'-4" in height and 4'-6" in width. The J. Temple Gwathmey Memorial Plate will be presented the winner of this event, when ponies will be shown over a triple in-and-out; railroad gate, picket fence, stone wall, double oser, a pole and triple bar, all without wings. Mrs. Richard F. Babcock, Mrs. James A. Hewlett, Frank A. Bonsal and Lt. Col. Lloyd C. Ewen have been invited to judge, according to Jane L. Baldwin, president of the show and Sally Spilman, secretary.

Shackleford's Yearlings

Stanley L. Shackleford, now of Winchester, Va., formerly with the late Willis Sharpe Kilmer's Court Manor establishment will offer 6 yearlings for sale at the annual Saratoga vendue. Two are by Neddle, 2 by Sunador, again racing under the capable hands of W. Burling Cocks, and 1 is by "Gino, all former Court Manor sires. The 6th is a dark bay colt by Claptrap—Queens Favorite, named Favorite Trap. The others are: dr. br. c. by Neddle—Sunny Love; ch. f. by Neddle—Beausympathy; str. rn. c. by "Gino—Sun Stream; b. c. by Sunador—Windy Way, named Sun Windy; and ch. f. by Sunador—Sister Martha, named Sun Fogo.

Ox Ridge's Judges

Ox Ridge Hunt Club's Horse Show, to be held on June 20 and 21, will have George H. Timmons, of Groton Mass., and Frederick H. Bontecou, M. F. H. of Millbrook, N. Y., judging hunters; Donald Scott Sharpe, of New York, judging jumpers and Mrs. James A. Hewlett, of Jericho, L. I., judging horsemanship. Arthur Naul will as usual manage the show, of which Jay Grant De Remer is Pres., Eugene A. Hoffman, Vice. Pres., J. Kenneth Mickle, Secy., and William A. Kelly is Treas.

Orton's Camp Iroquois

George W. Orton, who does so much for the Radnor, Rose Tree, Whitmarsh Valley and Huntingdon Valley hunt meetings, with sending out the word in advance notices, has retired as usual to the quiet and peace of Lake Winnepesaukee, Center Harbor, N. H., to his Camp Iroquois, where he has a camp for summer resorting families, also a special junior boy camp department.

"Ingle" breaks down

James "Ingle" Leyburn, spirited secretary and manager of the annual Valley Hunt Club Horse Show, to be held this year July 10-12 near Bradford, Pa., hasn't slowed up a whit, even though he cracked up skiling and broke a leg. He has been hard at work and has hunter and jumper judges for his show in Frank A. Bonsal, Jr., of Glyndon, Md., Homer B. Gray, M. F. H., of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and Harry W. Schmidt, of Warrenton, Pa.

Hart's Run, June 14

Marylanders: Humphrey Finney, Editor of the Maryland Horse and Augustus Riggs will go out to Sharpsburg, Pa., to judge the Hart's Run Hunt Horse Show on June 14. G. A. Bornmann, Secy., may be addressed Fulton Bldg., Pittsburgh, Pa. The Show is licensed by the A. H. S. A. Inc., will have both hunter and jumper stakes and championships. Allegheny C. C. Show

Grafton Duvall writes that the 19th annual Allegheny Country Club Horse Show, to be held on June 5-7 has 96 classes, 8 more than last year. In benefit of the Valley Hospital of Sewickley, the show will have features in $250 jumper stake; the John C. Oliver Memorial for the corinthian; the P. J. Lawler trophy for hunt teams, also $300 for 5-gaited stake horses; $250 for the harness horse championship stake.

Deep Run's Show

With entries closing Sunday, June 1, all signs point to a wide-open race for honors at the Deep Run Hunt Club horse show, to be held in Richmond, Va., Saturday and Sunday, June 7-8. The program lists two innovations: the junior corinthian and the veteran's class; junior corinthians may be 18 years and under, members in good standing of a recognized hunt, appointments counting 10 per cent. The veterans must be 50 years or over, horses will be shown at walk, trot and canter and over two fences 3'-6".

son mare, Rappadoura, in his 10th year, never looked better and his performances were on par with his conformation points. He went smoothly and evenly from class to class, in the working as well over inside and outside courses, proving a perfect ladies mount taking both ladies' contests convincingly among others. Miss du Pont, who was up throughout, did a thorough job and never rode better.

The preliminary competition for this conformation championship honor, held after all the jumping events of the three days, late Saturday P. M., when Woodfellow was leading with 19 points, to Sunwood Farm's Bond Street and Mrs. George Watts Hill's Balkonian with 15½ each, was the deciding factor. Woodfellow had to get no worse than 3rd and 3rd he got, as judges considered he showed deference to the hard, dry, turf ring, and pinned Bond Street with the blue, despite tant reigns and a wide open mouth as he galloped and cantered. This gave Bond Street the reserve, by a very close margin, but ½ a point back of Woodfellow, and Balkonian, who was pinned 2nd in the preliminary, had 18½ points to the winner's 21.

It would become but repetition to week by week write the laurels won by Mrs. George Watts Hill's "Quail Roost Farm", if no other owner or horse should win. Her Inky clean-swept at Washington, in winning both working and conformation tricolors. Last Saturday she was awarded the working tricolor at Wilmington, with the Germania challenge trophy, last year won by Bond Street. Inky bested Woodfellow by 4 points, 16 1-2 to get this while her stablemate Balkonian, hacking in price-less form, deserved more in the conformation preliminary, though surely Mrs. Hill cannot but be pleased with her stable's success at Wilmington.

Woodfellow won the lightweight, ladies' conformation and working, took 2nds in the thoroughbred, (back of the show's model Balkonian who duplicated his 1940 win); in the $500 stake back of Bond Street and in the working stake back of Alas. In the corinthian he was stood 4th, with Springbury Farm's Big Boy, turning in a creditable performance to win the eyes of the judges who further went for his size and substance. Though a half-bred, Big Boy moves with real freedom. In the hunters under saddle, Woodfellow was put down for a reserve 5th, the worst that he was during the show, as Springbury's Highland Ace walked-trotted-and-cantered to the blue, having previously won the 5-year-olds and under, under saddle, just as handily.

Miss Rood, the founder, the manager, the secretary, the inspiration of the show itself, has ability to gather the finest hunters and jumpers of the land, year after year and then, magician like, keep them all contented. Down they come, and this year Wilmington acted very much like a first of the season trial show for many exhibitors, with the cancellation of so many former armory shows in and about N. Y., and then the Atlantic City show and others going by the boards. In consequence, young and old hunters and jumpers alike turned out; filled the 47 various classes up to 20's, even 40's, and judges and scorers were known to throw horses out for merely changing a stride, throwing up their heads, or flattening their ears in the hunter division, while a slight hind-tick was sufficient to put them out of the ribbons in the open jumping. Clean, bold and disciplined performances were necessary to win at Wilmington this year, and conformation, bordering upon beauty itself, was a necessity, like Hobson's Choice.

Last year Wilmington judges: Brock W. Fuller, of Milwaukee, Wis., George Humphrey, of Cleveland, O., and Robert B. Young, of Middleburg, considered Bond Street primarily a working horse, although he accounted for the Hunter stake in their judgment, as he did this year. However, with Mrs. Edgar Scott, of Villa Nova, Pa., up then, as she was again this year on Bond Street, the gelding was awarded many more points for working efforts. This year, judges, Andrew M. Montgomery, of Milwaukee, Wis., Dr. Edgar W. Powell, of Bryn Mawr, Pa., and Alexander Mackay Smith, of White Post, Va., considered him more the conformation type and placed him 2nd to Balkonian in the model, so that the F. Woodson Hancocks, owners of Sunwood Farm, were scratching him in working classes.

One of the finest young horses out in sometime is that of Bryn Du Farm's Runancarry, a chestnut daughter of Runantell, shown by Mrs. Sallie Jones Sexton, owner, of Granville, Ohio. As this is being Chronicled it is reported that she is running away with the novice green hunter championship at Devon, and had there been a championship for green or novice at Wilmington, Runancarry would have surely taken it with her. She commenced with the novice blue on Thursday morning and won the limit hunters that afternoon, the latter a class of over 40.

Miss Eleanor Moffett of Asheville, N. C., with her widely travelled Candolette, put in some splendid rounds and came away with the novice jumpers on the 1st day.

Miss Jane Flaccus, of Sharpsburg, Pa., came down for the Wilmington hunter competition, bringing her Senate Page, Prince Devon, Martinique and Tim. She rode in many classes herself and then in the working hunter trials Senate Page, with Johnny Beach up, took the coveted blue ribbon. This class is over the famous hunter trial course, which includes a little of everything, even a Grand National-like water jump. Second in this went to Mrs. A. S. Laundon's Village Miss, with Mrs. W. H. Perry up. This mare, now in Virginia, due to Mrs. Laundon's quitting her Chagrin Valley home in Ohio to be with her husband encamped in the Army in Tennessee, has been announced for sale. Third in the hunter trial went to that grand, big chestnut son of Thunderation, Big Storm, owned by Mrs. Hill.

Big Storm is the winner of all prizes for versatility this year. Throughout the late fall of 1940 and the past winter, he has been hunted regularly with Quail Roost Hounds, carrying Mr. Hill. Those hounds run vigorous drag lines, also hunt live fox. Mr. Hill also used Big Storm for his "plantation horse" last winter and spring, and the writer knows well his ability as a foxhunter having a spanking day with Moore County Hounds (N. C.) on Big Storm in February. In March, Big Storm raced over 3 miles of timber, to finish the Sandhills Cup course and in April he finished 5th in the National Hunter Championship Steeplechase at Middleburg. For all this, the big, honest, half-bred goes placidly enough over outside courses, and he made up the winning hunt team at Wilmington, with stablemates Inky and Balkonian.
